

Y5 Homework Choices - WW2 and Plastic Pollution

Below are your homework choices for this half term. You may choose one of the following challenges to complete. Please make sure these are returned to us by the 15.12.21 to be shared and displayed to the class. It is optional to share with the class, but it would be lovely to see what the children have completed. If you have any questions, please let us know

Research and Design

During WW2, large varieties of animals were used in the war efforts. This ranged from pigeons to horses! Your task is to research an animal that was used in the war and to create an informative poster, explaining which animals were used in the war, what their role was and how this impacted on us winning the war.

You could also complete a drawing using black and white materials to make it look like it is from 1941, like this picture to the left of a very helpful dog with his soldier.

Something Creative

In line with our current Writing topic, you could also make a positive difference to our local environment and clean up our areas of toxic plastic! With this plastic, you could make a collage picture of marine life out of it, like this turtle. You can take a picture of this and bring it in with you.

As a challenge, you could then also create a larger collage on the beach, with plastics found at the beach! Once you've done this, of course, please ensure that the plastic is recycled.

Something Tasty!

Use what you already know about WW2 rations to research some old, wartime rations recipes. For example, you could make rock cakes, apple crumble or potato peel pie! Write some instructions of your own recipe for your friends to try! Take some pictures to show us, or bring it in!
